

Sullivan Gulch: Idealized Long Section Looking East

Intercepts identified in gray text boxes are reported as true thickness; however, the red intercepts on each drill trace have been projected onto the long section for illustrative purposes. Please visit the www.integreresources.com/news for available cross sections of drill holes presented.